BBB & AG Complaint Resolution

BBB Response Handling:

When a customer calls the BBB with a complaint on a business, it is the policy of the BBB to refer the caller back to the company for assistance. Approximately 85 percent of complaints are resolved at this level and the BBB never gets involved. However for the 15 percent that do involve the BBB it can become a stressful process.

RevLive has a great working relationship with the BBB and can quickly take action against your pending complaint for you. We work on your behalf to get the issue resolved quickly. We'll respond directly to the complaint and take control of the situation.

Attorney General Complaint:

Having a complaint filed to the Attorney General is no laughing matter. Our customer support specialists at RevLive have the expertise to handle these issues on your behalf to ensure that everything is handled properly to reach the desired outcome.

We'll continually follow up and remain engaged until the issue is resolved and closed. This takes the stress and burden of our client's shoulders and allows them to remain focused on what's important to them- the success of their business.

Call Monitoring

At RevLive, we are highly dedicated to our employees, who not only represent the face of our business, but also act as the frontline of your business too. We know first impressions matter and we do everything possible to ensure our agents put the best image forward.

The focus is on quality and ongoing improvement. Our dedicated Quality Assurance Team works closely with our support staff of Supervisors and Managers in the call center to ensure high service levels and effective first call resolutions throughout the center.

With Supervisors and members from the Quality Assurance Team conducting frequent monitoring sessions, each Agent and Product is monitored daily. During each QA session, agents are evaluated and scored on various quality criteria for their calls, including information accuracy, customer experience, business impact, resolution and professionalism. Agents are consulted on their performance in real-time and after the call. They are given constructive criticism, including areas they are excelling and those that require improvement. Agents also provide any feedback they have heard repetitively from customers which could indicate an issue with the campaign, this information is then shared with the client so you have a constant pulse on your campaign.

About Us

RevLive was created in 2004 through the growing needs of our own continuity offers. For us, it was challenging to find the perfect call center that understood the continuity industry and could help us achieve our customer service goals. We were looking for the uniqueness of a call center which could quickly grow with us and nurture our programs. Every continuity offer is different, and we had a difficult time finding a call center that was able to provide the custom service that we needed. After exhausting all of the possible options available we decided to create a call center for ourselves and RevLive was born. After seeing the remarkable results with our own campaigns, we decided to offer our premium services to the market, and many clients have made the switch to RevLive.

Today RevLive is a leader in the live Customer Service industry. We are committed that your business thrives by cutting your customer service costs and customizing your campaign based on your company's goals. We have the ability to scale quickly for your rapid growth in any language while providing superior service and outcomes. Our reporting system is unmatched by the competition and ensures you have a constant pulse on your business. It's no surprise that RevLive is one of the fastest growing call centers in the world. We are passionate about your success and are excited to show you a new, results oriented approach to your business.

Contact a Program Manager today 1-866-899-4906 to see how RevLive can help grow your business and contribute to your bottom line.

RevLive will not review, share, distribute, print, or reference any such Customer Data except as provided in the Service Agreement or as may be required by law. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Customer Data may at times be viewed or accessed by RevLive for the purpose of aggregating customer responses and actions, resolving a problem, support issue, or for investigating a suspected violation of the Service Agreement, or as may be required by law.

RevLive adheres to the Safe Harbor Privacy Principles published by US Department of Commerce ("Safe Harbor Principles") with respect to Customer Data that we receive from our customers and other business partners in the European Economic Area. RevLive complies with the U.S.-EU and the U.S.-Swiss Safe Harbor Frameworks regarding the collection, use, and retention of personal information from European Union member countries and Switzerland.

The scope of our Safe Harbor Certification is defined by our Safe Harbor Notice located below.

2. What Personal Information About Customers Does RevLive Collect?

Our primary goal in collecting information is to provide you with a friendly, customized, and efficient experience. We collect the following types of information from our customers:

Information You Provide to Us:

RevLive collects identifying information when you use the Service, when you visit the Site (including, without limitation, any or RevLive.net web pages or landing pages), and when you enter promotions or contests. For example, we require customers who register to use the Service to give us the following personal information: their name, Company name, address, phone number, and e-mail address, and financial qualification and billing information, such as billing name and address, credit card number, and the identity of users within the organization that will be using the Service. When you initially express interest obtaining additional information about the Service, or when you register for the Service, we may also ask for additional types personal information, such as title, department name, fax number, or additional company information, such as annual revenues or marketing spend. We may also request demographic information and unique identifiers in order to provide you with a more personalized experience or verify your passwords.

All financial and billing information that we collect from you is used for the purposes of checking your qualifications as a prospective customer and billing you for the Service. Such billing information is not used by RevLive for marketing or promotional purposes. RevLive may use a third-party intermediary to manage the credit card and billing processing. This intermediary is solely a link in the distribution chain, and is not permitted to store, retain, or use the information provided, except for the sole purpose of credit card and billing processing.

If you are a registered user of RevLive's subscription-based Service, please note that some information about you may remain in our records after the end of your trial or subscription.

Automatic Information:

We receive and store certain types of information whenever you interact with us via our website. RevLive automatically receives and records certain "traffic data" on our server logs including your IP address, RevLive cookie information, the page you requested, and your communications and interactions with other site registrants. RevLive uses this traffic data to help diagnose problems with its server, analyze trends and administer the Service.

We automatically collect usage information, such as the numbers and frequency of visitors to our Site and use of components of our Service. We may use this information to provide research, advice and information, including, without limitation, for benchmarking purposes (e.g. we may publish an industry white paper that uses data collected through the use of our Service). This data is only used in the aggregate. This type of collective data also enables us to figure out how often customers use parts of the Service so we can make the Service appealing to as many customers as possible. In addition, we may provide statistical information to our partners about how our customers, collectively, use our Site and Service. We may share this type of statistical data so that our partners also understand how often people use areas of our Site and our Service, so that they, too, may provide you with an optimal experience.

We also collect and use information for internal purposes. For example, if you are a registered user of the RevLive's subscription-based Service, we may keep records in your account history of your complaints about other registered users online behavior, and any reported violation of our Service Agreement that you or someone on your account may have committed.

Many companies offer programs that help you to visit web sites anonymously. While RevLive will not be able to provide you with a personalized experience if we cannot recognize you, we want you to be aware that these programs are available.

E-mail Communications:

We may receive a confirmation when you open an e-mail from RevLive if your computer supports this type of program, in order to help us make e-mails more interesting and helpful. We may also send out emails with information regarding RevLive or our partners including promotions and events. Customers can opt out of being contacted by us by sending an email to neil@revlive.net.

If a user elects to use our referral features for informing a friend about our Site or Service, we ask them for the friend's name and email address. RevLive will automatically send the friend an email on behalf of the user who made the referral, inviting such friend to visit the Site and try the Service. RevLive does not store this information.

Information From Other Sources:

For purposes such as improving personalization of our Service, we may receive information about you from other sources and add it to our account information.

3. What about Cookies?

Examples may include removing repetitive information from customer lists, analyzing data, providing marketing assistance, processing credit card payments, and providing customer service. We may also provide your personal information to agents who will use it to verify aggregate usage data that we provide to our partners. In all cases where we share your information with such agents, we explicitly require the agent to acknowledge and adhere to RevLive's privacy and customer data handling policies.

Moreover, if RevLive, or substantially all of its assets, were acquired, customer information would be one of the assets that are transferred.

Protection of RevLive and Others:

We may release personal information when we believe in good faith that release is necessary to comply with that law; enforce or apply our conditions of use and other agreements; or protect the rights, property, or safety of RevLive, our employees, our users, or others. This includes exchanging information with other companies and organizations for fraud protection and credit risk reduction.

With Your Consent:

Except as set forth above, you will be notified when your personal information may be shared with third parties.

All of our employees are kept up to date on our privacy and security practices.

6. How Can I Correct or Remove Information About Me?

If you feel that any personal information about you that has been collected and stored by RevLive might be wrong, or you would like for us to remove you from our systems, please notify us at neil@revlive.net so that we may correct or delete the information.

7. What Choices Do I Have?

As stated previously, you can always opt not to disclose information, even though it may be needed to make a purchase or take advantage of certain RevLive features.

You are able to add or update certain information as described in the "How can I correct or remove information about Me" section above. When you update information, however, we may maintain a copy of the unrevised information in our records.

As explained earlier, the "help" portion of the toolbar on the majority of browsers will direct you on how to prevent your browser from accepting new cookies, how to command the browser to tell you when you receive a new cookie, or how to fully disable cookies. Please note, however, that if you do not enable cookies, you will not be able to take advantage of some of our attractive features.

8. Can Children Use RevLive's services?

Our site and the use of services made available through RevLive are not intended for children under the age of 13. RevLive does not knowingly or specifically collect information about children under the age of 13 and believes that children of any age should get their parents' consent before giving out any personal information. If you believe that we have mistakenly or unintentionally collected such information through our website, please notify us at neil@revlive.net so that we may immediately delete the information from our servers.

RevLive Safe Harbor Notice

We self-certify compliance with

Scope of Safe Harbor Certification: RevLive, Inc. ("RevLive" or "we") recognizes that the European Community has established a data protection regime pursuant to Directive 95/46/EC, which applies to the European Economic Area ("EEA") and restricts companies in the EEA in transferring personal data about individuals in the EEA to the United States, unless there is "adequate protection" for such personal data when it is received in the United States. To create such "adequate protection," we adhere to the Safe Harbor Privacy Principles published by US Department of Commerce ("Safe Harbor Principles") with respect to personal data about individuals in the EEA that we receive from our customers and other business partners. Our Safe Harbor Certification does not extend to data that we receive directly through RevLive's publicly accessible websites (any of our websites such as www.RevLive.net that can be accessed without a password). More information on the Safe Harbor Principles and RevLive's scope of participation is available at http://export.gov/safeharbor/eu/eg_main_018476.asp.

Scope of this Notice: This Notice addresses data subjects residing in the EEA ("EEA Persons") whose data we may receive from one of our customers, suppliers or other business partners in the EEA e.g., referral partners, integration partners, etc.

Categories of EEA Data: We sell integrated web-based business application software largely to small and midsize businesses. We receive mostly business-related information from the EEA, including contact information of individual representatives of the businesses with whom we are dealing, including, without limitation, names, addresses, work phone numbers, work email addresses, etc. of EEA Persons ("EEA Data"). In connection with some services, e.g., RevLive's Lead Management services, our customers use our hosted technology platform to store and process EEA Data at their own discretion. Since EEA Data covered by this Notice is by definition sent to us by another company in the EEA (e.g., a customer of RevLive), the categories of data sent and the purposes of processing often depend on such other company, with whom the EEA Persons typically have a closer employment or business relationship (and which, therefore, can provide additional information on categories of data shared with us).

Purposes: We collect and use EEA Data for purposes of providing products and services to our customers, communicating with corporate business partners about business matters, processing EEA Data on behalf of corporate customers, providing information on our services, and conducting related tasks for legitimate business purposes.

Disclosure: We share EEA Data with our affiliates and contractors, who process EEA Data on behalf of RevLive. We also share EEA Data with other third parties for the purposes for which we receive the EEA Data (e.g., performance of contractual obligations and rights), and we may also disclose EEA Data where we are legally required to disclose (e.g., under statutes, contracts or otherwise) or the disclosure is permitted by law or the Safe Harbor Principles and we have a legitimate business interest in such disclosure.

With respect to marketing emails, EEA Persons may opt-out of receiving further email marketing communications from RevLive by sending an email to neil@revlive.net, or by following opt-out instructions that are contained in each marketing email. EEA Persons may also send an email to this address to ask to opt-out of disclosures to third parties, but such a limitation on data sharing may make it difficult or impossible for us to provide the requested services.

Access and Review: If you are an EEA Person about whom we hold EEA Data, you may request access to, and the opportunity to update, correct or delete, such EEA Data. To submit such requests or raise any other questions, please contact the business that provided your EEA Data to us. You can also contact our Safe Harbor Contact. We reserve the right to take appropriate steps to authenticate an applicant's identity, to charge an adequate fee before providing access and to deny requests, except as required by the Safe Harbor Principles.

Safe Harbor Contact: If you have questions, please contact RevLive's Chief Security Officer, e-mail:neil@revlive.net. If you have a comment or concern that cannot be resolved with us directly, you may contact the competent local data protection authority.
